Participating in events is a privilege.

We have the right to ask you to leave this space.

Modern Fuel has anti-violence and pro-survivor policies in place, and will not tolerate discrimination or violent acts. This includes but is not limited to: racism, white supremacy, sexism, heterosexism/homophobia, cissexism/transphobia, queerphobia, sizeism, ableist and ageist comments, and all acts of violence and harassment.

We reserve the right to intervene and/or remove any patron or person in the space who is creating or contributing to an unsafe environment.

Modern Fuel operates under a liquor license for events and does not allow outside liquor, drugs or drug use in the space. We ask that if you choose to consume alcoholic beverages that you do so in a responsible manner.

Modern Fuel has been operating in Katarokwi/Kingston for over forty years, supporting artists and working across communities, on the ancestral homelands and territory of the Haundenosaunee and Anishinaabe peoples. We at Modern Fuel strive for respectful relationships through all of the programming and exhibitions that we support, as we work towards collective healing and honour this land together.

Care for yourself and others.
