

SLOW ART DAY 2019

Saturday, April 6, 2019

Slow Art Day is a global event with a simple mission: help more people discover for themselves the joy of looking at and loving art.

One day each year – April 6 in 2019 – people all over the world visit local museums and galleries to look at art slowly. Participants look at 5 artworks for 10 minutes each and then meet together over lunch to talk about their experience. Modern Fuel is delighted to join over 150 galleries, museums, and other art venues from all over the world for this annual event.

On Saturday, April 6, Modern Fuel is open from noon to 5 PM. Join us for some slow art-seeing at noon, followed by a discussion-gathering led by our staff with light refreshments at 1 PM.

At 2 PM, Genevieve Flavelle will give a curatorial tour of our current exhibition A Fine Pointed Belonging by Jeneen Frei Njootli and Dayna Danger.

Location: Suite 305, 370 King Street W., Kingston, Ontario K7L 2X4

FREE and open to all

Share your experience and tag us on Facebook (@ModernFuel), Instagram (@modernfuelarc) or Twitter (@ModernFuelARC)!

More about Slow Art Day: <https://www.slowartday.com/about/>

Modern Fuel Artist-Run Centre (Katarokwi/Kingston, ON) is a non-profit organization facilitating the presentation, interpretation, and production of contemporary visual, time-based and interdisciplinary arts. Modern Fuel supports innovation and experimentation, and is committed to the education of interested publics and the diversification of its audiences.

Title and page image: Dayna Danger, From Dayna to Jeneen (2019), Moosehide, beads, caribou hair. Currently on view as a part of “A Fine Pointed Belonging”, a collaborative exhibition by Dayna Danger and Jeneen Frei Njootli, until April 20, 2019.